

EUA Learning & Teaching Initiative steering committee

The L&T Steering Committee (SC) is composed of eight members. The EUA Board appoints the Chair, and the European Student Union is invited to appoint one student member. The remaining six members are selected through a call for SC members.

The current SC is composed of the following members:

- Michael Murphy, Former President, University College Cork, Ireland (chair)
- Paolo Cherubini, Deputy Rector and Pro-Rector for Education, University of Milan Bicocca, Italy
- Jolanta Choinska-Mika, Vice-Rector for Student Affairs and Quality of Education, Warsaw University, Poland
- Ian Dunn, Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Student Experience), Coventry University, UK
- Kornelia Freitag, Vice-Rector for Academic and International Affairs, Ruhr University Bochum, Germany
- Gohar Hovhannisyan, European Students Union
- Riitta Pyykkö, Vice-Rector, University of Turku, Finland
- Oliver Vettori, Dean, Accreditations & Quality Management and Director, Program Management & Teaching and Learning Affairs, Vienna University of Economics and Business, Austria

The mandate of the SC is to:

- provide oversight of activities comprising EUA's Learning and Teaching Initiative, specifically the organisation of the thematic peer groups and the European Learning & Teaching Forum (Forum);
- develop the programme of the Forum in collaboration with the EUA secretariat, including deciding on the theme, on the speakers and topics for the plenary and parallel plenary sessions and on a call for contributions, on the basis of which it makes a selection to fill some of the Forum break-out sessions.
