

10 things I have learnt as a Director of a National Agency for Learning and Teaching

Terry Maguire PhD

Higher and Further Education Specialist

31 March 2022

No. 1

Having a National Agency demonstrates that Learning and Teaching in higher education is valued at a National Level

No. 2

Being inclusive is important

The background of the slide features abstract, overlapping green geometric shapes, primarily triangles and polygons, in various shades of green, creating a modern and dynamic visual effect.

No. 3

Evidence-based decision making is essential

No. 4

The way the agency does its work is important

No. 5

Partnership is important

No. 6

Working with people is important

No. 7

A National Agency brings focus and coherence and supports sustainable change

The background features abstract, overlapping green geometric shapes, primarily triangles and polygons, in various shades of green, creating a modern and dynamic visual effect.

No. 8

Being trusted is absolutely essential

No. 9

A National agency optimises the use of funding.

Funding is important to support innovation and collaboration, but the funding must be ringfenced to L&T.

No. 10

Alignment is needed to make the difference between sustainable enhancement and wasted resources and effort

Many thanks for listening

Terry Maguire PhD

Email: avonbeg@gmail.com