

Capacity-building workshop series: Constructing universities' roadmap towards full automatic credit recognition

Workshop 2: Trust building; Curricular design; Learning Agreements

18 November, 10.00-12.30 CET

This interactive event is organised in the context of the Erasmus+ co-funded Automatic Recognition Assessment (AUREA) project, coordinated by the European Students' Union (ESU). It is open to representatives of higher education institutions across Erasmus+ programme and partner countries.

The workshop is hosted by the European University Association (EUA), with the support of other project partners, and aims to present and discuss two key project outputs: an online self-evaluation tool on automatic credit recognition and a roadmap outlining which actions higher education institutions can take to improve their credit recognition practices, based on the outcomes of the self-evaluation.

This workshop is part of a three-part series, with complementing workshops taking place on 12 and 25 November, respectively at 10.00-12.30 CET. All three workshops follow a similar structure whereas the interactive programme items will cover different parts of the Roadmap. Participation in selected workshops is thus possible, but participants are encouraged to take part in the whole series and preference will be given to those who take part in all three events.

In preparation for the workshop series, all participants are required to conduct the self-evaluation through this link, as discussion in the event will be based on the results:

In addition, participants will receive their own roadmap template and will be encouraged to develop it throughout the workshop series.
